

What would you like to touch in this gallery? (But you can't) Why do you think this is a Museum rule?

What object would you like to take home? Why?

What object do you think is the most valuable? Why?

Which badge is the most interesting? Why?

Walk into the gallery - stop. What is your first impression?

Which object do you find the most interesting? Why?

Find a colourful object. What is it? What is it used for?

Are there more men than women displayed in the gallery or more women than men?

Which object would be called 'The Noisy Object'?

Find the smallest object displayed. What is it?

Does this gallery feel old or new? Why?

Find an object that confuses you? What is it? What's confusing about it?

Look at the images and/or a piece of clothing that you would wear. What would you chose? Why?

Which poster do you like the most? Why?

Which object is the oldest in the gallery? What is it?

Choose a picture of a person. How can you tell from looking they are important?

What level of government would help you if your dog was lost?

Chose an object that you haven't seen before. Find out something about it.

Find an object you have never seen before. What is it?

What do you enjoy looking at? Why?

If you could bring someone else to the gallery, who would you bring and why?

If you were the curator of this exhibition, what would you change?

Which person featured in this gallery do you admire the most? Why?

What don't you like about this gallery?